

NEWFANE

Mrs. F. A. DeWitt and children visited relatives in Chester Friday.

Leo Grout and Hubert Chertie have entered the state agriculture school at Lyndonville.

Miss Caroline Bliss has closed West-Like, her summer home, and returned Oct. 12 to Akron, Ohio.

Dr. I. R. Doane and family of Springfield (Vt.) visited Mrs. Doane's aunt, Mrs. George I. Bishop, Sunday.

George O. Davis and family of Newfane, Mass., visited Monday at the home of their sister, Mrs. H. F. Batchelder.

Marjorie Eames is now able to return to Leland and Gray seminary, after several days' absence on account of illness.

The violin accompaniment in the choir was enjoyed by all, especially the duet with Mrs. Monroe as soprano.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Batchelder went to Northampton Sunday to spend several days in the home of their son, George H. Batchelder.

Hert Wright and family with a camping outfit left Wednesday in their automobile for Florida, where they expect to remain through the winter.

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Boardman came to Newfane Wednesday and spent a day at Davidson Maples, en route from Warrenton to their home in Williams-town, Mass.

Walter F. Wheeler's daughter, Miss Ruth Wheeler, and Edward Johnson of Gardner motored to Newfane Sunday and spent the day with relatives at A. R. Underwood's.

Miss McKenon, a trained nurse from Springfield (Vt.), is caring for George I. Bishop, who is critically ill from a paralytic shock in the right side sustained Oct. 12, and Mrs. Ida Whittemore of Springfield (Vt.) is staying for the present with her sister, Mrs. Bishop.

At the next regular meeting of Newfane Grange, Oct. 27, Chief Forester W. G. Hastings of Montpelier will speak. The meeting will be open to the public at 8.30 and all are cordially invited. Mr. Hastings also has charge of all fire wardens throughout the state of Vermont.

Mrs. Eliza Jeffs Prouty and three children have been visiting at Ira Montpelier, where Mr. Prouty joined his family, all returning Saturday to their home in Peru, in Marshall Hubbard's car. Ray Harrington of Warren spent the week-end with Mr. Prouty and family.

A party of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Chidsey, Mr. and Mrs. George Chidsey and Mrs. Minnie Fowler, came from Newfane, Conn., by automobile Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs. Davidson and to see Vermont in her autumn glory. They returned Monday to Connecticut.

Mrs. Delbert Rhoades and Mrs. George Goodenough gave a family picnic Saturday below the village for Mrs. H. W. Rhoades and Miss Evelyn Wheaton, after helping through the season at Newfane Inn. The outdoor dinner was served Oct. 21, in her home, of heart trouble. Her general health had been good and her death came as a shock to her relatives and friends, as she was ill only about an hour.

Mrs. Eliza (Goodnow) Dickinson, 90, widow of Dana D. Dickinson, and a resident of the town of Newfane all her life, died at 1.45 o'clock Thursday morning, Oct. 21, in her home, of heart trouble.

Mrs. Eliza A. (Goodnow) Dickinson was one of three children of Deacon John Goodnow and Sally (Stratton) Goodnow, and was born in Newfane Aug. 27, 1830. On April 3, 1849, she married Dana D. Dickinson, a lumber dealer of Williams-town, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Calvin Baker, pastor of the Baptist church. They lived in Williams-town since their wedding, and were married there on March 3, 1907, at the age of 85.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson, Charles H. Dickinson, a piano tuner who gave up his work in Wallingford, Conn., to come here and care for his parents in 1905, and Alice E. wife of William H. Newton of Newfane.

Mrs. Dickinson was a member of the Universalist parish and had been an active worker for the society. She never united with any organization. She was deeply interested in the welfare of her home and ever was ready to render sympathy or help to those who were ill or in trouble. She maintained her faculties to a remarkable degree and took an interest in all current events.

Besides her son and daughter Mrs. Dickinson leaves one sister, Mrs. Samuel Morse of South Newfane, and one brother, W. H. Goodnow of Newfane.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the house and the burial will take place in the Williamsville cemetery, in the family lot.

Pound Party for Pardon.

A pleasant social evening was held at the Baptist vestry Tuesday evening, the occasion being a reception and surprise pound party to the pastor, Rev. C. W. Bishop, and Mrs. Bishop. A general invitation was extended and the rooms were crowded.

A pleasing program was given, including songs by a quartet dressed in old-fashioned costume with Mrs. E. G. Smythe as organist, also costumed in dress and bonnet of an early period. The quartet included Mrs. Bertha Whitaker, soprano, Mrs. B. E. Phillips, alto, B. E. Phillips, tenor, and H. J. Heath, bass.

The songs included old ballads, hymns, and figures, and patriotic and humorous songs. Mrs. Phillips sang, "Wait for the wagon," B. E. Phillips sang the amusing solo, "Cousin Jedediah," and H. J. Heath the old song, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." There were choruses between the group of songs.

At the close of the program Prof. S. S. Clarke, dressed as an old-time school master, appointed Dr. F. L. Osgood and Rev. C. W. Bishop to choose sides and an old-fashioned spelling bee followed. The side explained by Dr. Osgood won, five remaining standing when the opposite team was spelled out.

H. J. Heath, in a short speech, presented the burden, on two large tables, to the Bishop's family, saying it was a good custom of the old days to "pound the minister." Rev. Mr. Bishop responded, expressing appreciation for the evening.

The evening was planned by Mrs. D. G. Smythe. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, marigolds and chrysanthemums.

Reach 63d Marriage Milestone.

On Thursday, Oct. 14, Mr. and Mrs. George Randall reached the 63d anniversary of their marriage, which took place in Townsend Oct. 14, 1857. The same day was the 80th anniversary of Mr. Randall's birth.

Mr. Randall was born in Winchester, Mass., and since his marriage has spent most of his life in Townsend. He is in good health.

Mrs. Randall's maiden name was Caroline E. Twitcheil. She was born Aug. 3, 1824, on the place now owned by Clarence Truesdell and was a daughter of Jonas and Eliza (Robbins) Twitcheil. She remains in excellent health and takes much interest in the visits of friends and the news of the day.

During the past summer she has placed by hand a bed quilt containing over 1,200 pieces, the pattern of which she designed herself. Mr. and Mrs. Randall have lived on the farm where they now reside more than 50 years. They have been public spirited and highly respected citizens of the town, always ready with aid in church and society work. At their golden wedding anniversary a celebration was held at their home and was largely attended.

Mock Wedding a Pleasing Event.

An amusing incident occurred near the close of the social held at the Baptist church Tuesday evening when Rev. C. W. Bishop announced to the surprised audience that he had discovered a young couple present who wished to be married and desired to remain as witnesses. After a short delay a bridal procession entered with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Heath as the happy couple, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Phillips as bridesmaid and best man and Dr. F. L. Osgood as guardian of the bride, who gave her hand in marriage.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. D. G. Smythe. A mock ceremony was performed with many admonitions and ludicrous promises and in the speech of congratulation and felicitations by the pastor which followed the guests learned that the day was the 28th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Heath and on discovering it the impromptu observance had been arranged by Rev. Bishop.

The scene caused much merriment, the mimicry of the actors, especially of the bride's "father," being side-splitting.

Teacher Training Course Starts.

By co-operation of the State school board, who will bear nearly the entire expense, a teacher training course will again be started at Leland and Gray seminary. The movement is a beneficial one for the school, as many students are unable financially to go to more distant normal schools for training or to attend college. Already eight students have registered from the senior class for the course with almost a certainty of several more from last year's graduates. There are strong probabilities of others joining the class from surrounding towns. The teacher engaged, Miss Palmer of Newbury, has had much experience and comes well equipped for the position. She began her duties Thursday of this week. The class will meet at present in one of the recitation rooms of the seminary.

O. W. Foullet has a new Studebaker truck.

George Boutelle has moved his family to their village home for the winter.

Mrs. S. P. Powers returned Saturday from a visit of several weeks at Island Pond.

Frank Churchill of Brattleboro visited his cousins at the Holbrook homestead this week.

Mrs. Frank Aldrich of Westmoreland, N. H., has been a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. L. Vincent.

Miss Rosa Watson and nephew, Raymond E. Watson of Brattleboro, were at F. W. Watson's for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Foster, who have sold their farm to Irving Bills, have bought a place in Newfane and will move there soon.

Irving Bills recently sold his house in district No. 3 to John Bratton and has bought George Foster's place north of Simpsontonville.

Mrs. Henry Meyers has returned to her home in New York after spending two months at the O'Brien bungalow in Harmonville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bond and Miss Ida Nichols of Brattleboro were guests at Miss Lois Russell's Sunday.

Mrs. Ann Randall, who has been a guest several weeks at F. T. Randall's, returned Wednesday to her home in Belchertown, Mass.

Rev. C. W. Bishop has been engaged as music teacher at Leland and Gray seminary and has begun instructing a class in chorus work.

The seminary students are planning for a social in celebration of Halloween. A promenade will be held at seminary hall Friday night of this week.

Clarence Franklin and daughter, Miss Jessie Franklin of Hartford, Conn., have been recent visitors at H. O. and Lyman Gale's and at Mrs. Lucy Franklin's.

Mrs. Green and niece have moved into rooms in Mrs. E. F. Page's house. The Ford house, where they have lived, will soon be occupied by W. L. Tenney's family.

Mrs. Martha Colburn and daughter, Miss Belle Colburn, who have been spending the summer at the Stebbins farm, will return Friday to their home in Roxbury, Mass.

Mrs. Alton Holden went Wednesday to Memorial hospital with Master Sam Cobb, where an operation will be performed upon his throat. He has not been in good health for some time.

John Sanderson returned Saturday to his home in Savannah, Ga., leaving his little son, Jack, with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Sanderson, for the benefit of the North wind climate.

Miss Emma Bushnell is caring for Mrs. O. W. Follett's household while Mrs. Follett is acting as substitute teacher at the seminary in place of Miss Mary Plunk, who is recovering from a severe illness.

The unusual beauty of the autumn foliage, as well as the perfect October weather, is tempting a stream of automobile travelers through our hills. This easy mode of travel is teaching city friends to appreciate Vermont scenery at its best.

At the regular meeting of West River Grange Friday evening the question for debate will be, "If you had $20 for the purpose of making you work easier what would you do with it?" At the roll call each member is asked to describe some pleasant trip taken this summer.
